Detroit, Mich., Oct. 12.—The Chicago National league baseball team this after-noon, at Bennett park, won the world's championship, beating the Detroit American team by a score of 2 to 0. It was the fourth successive victory for the Chicago team in as many days. Taking advantage of every slip made by the local players and running the bases cleverly, they sound two runs in the first two lunings, while the Detroit team did not succeed in getting one man over the home plate. The "rooters" who had followed the Chicago toam from their home city swarmed down 10cm from their home city swarmed down to the filmond when the ninth inting closed and showered them with congratulations. It was a disappointing day for the local team in more ways than one. The weather was raw and cold, entirely unfit for basebull. The official count of the attendance was 7,370. The temperature was below 90 degrees and a raw wind swept across the field throughout the game. The sun broke through the clocks calls once and then
